

DRUNK ASKS COP TO 'LOCK ME UP'

Speeder Confesses and Draws
Fine of $10 and Costs—
Burns Gets Five Days.

Staggering into the city police station at 11:30 o'clock last night, with head bare and as happy as a drunken sailor off duty, James Burns, a well known police court figure, squared himself away before Policeman Kip Fleming and said, "Lock me up, lock me up." Before he had said his little piece the last time, Fleming had him on his way down stairs and he was locked up on a charge of being drunk.

In entering the charge against Burns, Fleming added to the usual information that is placed on the police court blotter the following: "Lock me up."

When arraigned before Mayor W. W. Conaway at today's session of police court, Burns was questioned about his remarks to the arresting officer. He answered that he was so drunk last night that he did not know what he was doing or what he had said, but that he was sure of just one thing and that was that he was guilty of the charge placed against him.

Burns told Mayor Conaway that his home was at California, Pa., and that if released he would leave town at once and never would return to this city. He had just about won the mayor over to his way of thinking when the mayor asked him if he had ever been in the local police court before. Burns looked at the mayor in wild-eyed surprise, and "Oh, yes, yes!" This ended the argument. Mayor Conaway told him he could leave for California as soon as he settled with Chief Snider for a fine of $5 and costs, or otherwise he could work five days for the city before leaving for his old home town. Being short of funds, Burns is a husky man who has been down stairs and will be worked on the streets for five days.

Walter Garrison, charged with using Fairmont avenue for a speed way, was the next prisoner called. The city had several witnesses to prove that Garrison had driven his car on the city's principal thoroughfare at a rate of speed greatly in excess of the speed allowed by the city ordinance. Garrison, when arraigned, entered a plea of guilty. Mayor Conaway imposed a fine of $10, which he paid.

The third case scheduled for today's session failed to materialize when a woman, who had called the police and made a complaint that she had assaulted and beat her husband when confronted by the man at the police station this morning to give information against him, refused to wear out a warrant against the man, but she refused to do so this morning. Last night she was very desirous of having her friend jailed but today she had changed her mind. There were no other witnesses, and the woman refused to make complaint or testify against the man, he was released.

MEXICANS MOB REPORTER FOR SLIGHTING MATADOR

MEXICO CITY, May 5.—(By The Associated Press.)—American baseball fans who mob the umpire have their counterparts in Mexican bullfighting enthusiasts who at the corner, which concluded the season here, attacked a local reporter who had slighted the matador, Adolfo Gaona, idol of the capital. The newspaper man was pelted with fruit, cushions and even stones and finally a rush was made on him, necessitating police protection. The reporter had simply said that Gaona was not the best bull fighter in the world.

BRITISH EXPLORERS BACK FROM ISTHMAIN JUNGLES

PANAMA, May 5.—The British explorers, Michael Hedges and Major Fitzwilliams, have just returned from a trip into the San Blas and Chiriquique River country, the first white men, it is said, to penetrate that section of the Isthmian jungles.

They brought back with them a large collection of Indian idols and primitive fashions, also pieces of cloth woven by the natives. These objects resemble in many ways those produced by the ancient Egyptians.

VORBECK FRUIT CO. OPENS IN MORNING

Former City Market Will Open
Its Store to Patrons at 428 Adams Street.

The Vorbeck Fruit Co., formerly the Fairmont City Market of the Jolliffe Building, will open at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning at its new quarters at 428 Adams street. This new concern will carry only fresh fruits and vegetables.

"We're not giving anything away tomorrow except quality and courtesy," declared A. E. Kneisey, the manager, this afternoon. "Our customers are assured of good bargains and right prices. We did a good business at our former store in the Jolliffe Building and we hope our many patrons will visit us on our opening day in our new quarters where we will be able to give better values than before."

Mr. Kneisey is an experienced business man. He is a former Clarksburg and spent several years in the merchandise game there. Charles Vorbeck, owner of the store, is a local man and has been connected with several Fairmont enterprises.

The City Market was opened by Messrs. Vorbeck and Kneisey during the month of February in the Jolliffe Building but it was soon found that the quarters were too small for the firm to give really efficient service. It was decided to change the store's location and 428 Adams street was decided upon.

For the last two or three days carpenters have been overhauling the business room, repainting it and installing new furniture. The work was finished up late this afternoon and work was begun immediately on moving in the fresh fruits and vegetables ready for the opening tomorrow morning.

RELIABLE USED CARS AT REASONABLE PRICES

If we were indifferent about public opinion we might spend less time and money putting Used Cars in shape before offering them for sale. But we find that it helps our business as well as our conscience to be particular.

It is obvious why Nazimova is called "the incomparable." This brilliant actress' performance in "Camille," shown yesterday at the Blue Ridge Theatre, where it began a run of three days, evinces such a mastery of technique and emotional quality as makes her deserve the epithet to perfection. Here she is at her best, and it is no exaggeration to say that in this picture she shows herself one of the greatest actresses of the screen.

In "Camille" Nazimova has done for the silver screen what Bernhardt, Eleanora Duse, Clara Morris, Olga Nethersole, and Ethel Barrymore did for the stage. These artists won fame for their interpretation of the role of "Camille." Nazimova, no less than they, has endowed the part with a charm and power.

Local picturegoers will not miss this picture. It is rarely that such a masterpiece is seen, seldom that a great drama and a great actress are united. And after seeing the picture, one easily understands the statement that it is one of the finest love stories of all times, and that the play still thrills and delights, seventy years after being produced in Paris.

Nazimova has the role of Camille, the woman of the underworld whom the love of a law student lifts to heights of devotion and sacrifice, and who returns to her showy, pitiful life upon learning that her sweetheart has abandoned his career for her sake.

It is a poignant tragedy that will not fail to hold interest until the very end.

Praise must be given Ray C. Smallwood for his consummate direction; and to Rudolph J. Bergquist for the unusual photography. Natacha Rambova had charge of the art direction in this Metro production. June Mathis wrote the screen version. Nazimova's supporting cast includes Rudolph Valentino, celebrated for his performance in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and "The Conquering Power"; Edward Connelly, Rex Cherryman, Arthur Hoot, Zeffie Tilbury, Ruth Miller, Consuelo Flowerston, Mrs. Oliver and William Orlandson.

Mrs. Howard N. Ogden has arrived here from Chicago and will spend several weeks at her rooms in the Fleming Apartments in Fairmont avenue.

It Isn't The PRICE That We Direct Your Attention To So Much As It Is What Is BEHIND It In The Way Of STYLE, QUALITY And VALUE.

The price of a shoe means nothing until you see what is behind it. What is behind the price of Newark shoes? (1st) The saving we effect on annual purchases of nearly five million pairs. (2nd) The lower margin of profit on which we can sell in consequence of our huge volume; and (3rd) The economy that results from the scientific, low cost operation of our 400 stores. These combined savings go into your pocket, where they belong. It is through this greater value giving that we have built up the largest retail shoe business in the world. LINDA LEE, INC. TO START MONDAY

Louis Joseph Vance's Great Novel on Hollywood to Run in This Paper.

Realizing that the attention of the world is at present focused on that part of moviedom which couldn't stand prosperity. The West Virginian has obtained for its readers the right to publish serially Louis Joseph Vance's great novel of movie life in Hollywood, "Linda Lee, Inc."

Several of Mr. Vance's novels have recently been made into movies. This required Mr. Vance to be constantly on location and he was thrown into intimate association with actors, actresses, writers, photographers and directors. The life of Hollywood was laid bare before him. And that is what he has written into "Linda Lee, Inc."

Bitter Tragedy of Screen.
Little has the public known heretofore of the bitter tragedy lying behind the gay lights of the motion picture city. It was this that M. M. Vance soon learned that it was not all gold.

And so "Linda Lee," came into existence. Perhaps you know enough of moviedom to recognize the woman in the story. A Fifth Avenue society woman who became a movie queen—Mrs. Belia Druce who became "Linda Lee."

Much that lies behind the silver screen is told by Mr. Vance in this wonderful novel. Never before has pen cut so deep in the hallow mystery in the life of Hollywood's "famous set." The battle constantly going on there and usually resulting in defeat is portrayed in all its nakedness.

And while the historian records the events of the humble progress, the novelist is ever present with his clear insight, his intense romanticism. Speed—action—mystery—romance—adventure—passion—all the ingredients of the Great American Novel are here.

Those feverish days of '19 were tame and quiet compared to the high-flyin' years when the movies poured gold into California, even mediocre actresses shot into stardom; photographers jumped into directorships at fabulous salaries; peddlers became magnates. Money, money, money—and all of it new.

It had to end in tragedy finally. Months ago Louis Joseph Vance saw it and told his friends what was certain to happen. Mr. Vance's book was written before it did happen before the public for the average person has glimpsed little of the tragedies of the past.

"Linda Lee" is the one character of fiction you will never forget. She is a living creature, a vibrant force in the film world about her. At the command of the Master Director she rises to prominence only to find herself caught in a web of unreality from which there seems no escape. Her battle with her moving picture environment and the testing of her soul under adverse circumstances forms the theme of this story, the greatest portrayal of screen artists' lives the world has ever known.

Not a Useless Word.
The story is written as only Louis Joseph Vance could have written it. There is not a useless word nor an unnecessary phrase. The action begins with the very first chapter and moves on with lightning-like rapidity to the thrilling, astounding climax. Vance has done nothing better than this book; probably he has done nothing else as good. Those who remember his "Brass Bowl," "Bronze Ball," "Black Bag," "Foot of Fame," "Fortune Hunter," "Bandbox," "Destroying Angel," and "Dark Mirror" will consider this praise indeed.

MORE COAL NOW MOVING TO EAST

Final Session of Mining School to Be Held Tonight at Fairmont High.

During the past few days there has been more coal moving out of the region, and particularly off the Monongah Division, B. & O. than there had been for some time. Quite a little of this was formerly unconsigned loads.

A total of seventy nine cars of coal was shipped east and ten west on Thursday off the Monongah Division. All of the fifteen cars of coke produced by the division, and were shipped immediately, fourteen cars going west and one east.

Daily R. R. Fuel
Twenty four cars of coal were secured by the B. & O. off the Monongah Division, B. & O. yesterday, this being all of the railroad fuel loaded. It is understood that the B. & O. has been buying this coal more actively during the past week or so than previously. Fourteen cars of railroad fuel were shipped off the Charleston Division B. & O. on Thursday, and the B. & O. received all of this tonnage.

East of Grafton
Eleven trains drew 402 loads of freight off the Monongah Division, B. & O., to the east yesterday. There were 104 cars of this coal. A total of 375 cars of general freight moved west, of which 48 cars were coal.

Personal Mention
John A. Clark, Clark coal interests, and Mrs. Clark, and Nelson Bell, Bethlehem Coal Co., and Mrs. Bell are in Logan attending a house party given by Frank Hutchins.

Harry B. Clark, Clark coal interests, is on a trip to New York city. John A. Clark of the Clark interests was at his desk again today after having been ill yesterday.

Mining School
Fairmont mining extension school will hold its final session tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Fairmont High School annex. An appeal is being made to have every member of the class in attendance. It is expected that the checks and the attendance certificates will be distributed, although this is not certain.

A large attendance of members is desired because of the winding up of the affairs of the class. Final arrangements will be made for the banquet to be held at the Fairmont Y. M. C. A. next Thursday evening in which all of the mining extension classes of Northern West Virginia will participate.
